MR. HARRISON NOT RESPONSIBLE. No Motive to Misrepresent Mr. Blaine's State of Health, A gentleman who is usually well informed on matters relating to the administration and who expects to see Mr. Harrison renominated said to a STAR reporter today: "I can see no motive for the friends of Mr Harrison to desire the state of Mr. Blaine's health to be misrepresented, and I do not RECALLING THE CRONIN MYSTERY think they are responsible for the alarming stories that have been printed. Mr. Blaine does not want to be a candidate in '92. All he wants is to continue the work he has been doing. He has given Mr. Harrison to understand this and I suppose has told him in so many words that he will not be a candidate. Unless you assume that Mr. Harrison believes that the people will nominate Blaine in spite of a declination, if his health will permit, you can find no motive for trying to make the public believe that his health is gone."

Mr. Blaine is evidently greatly improved in health. His private secretary, Mr. Dent, has been with him for nearly a week, and he is resuming his work.

WHY HE HESITATES. ator Quay Wants Certain Appoin

It is generally believed here that the little incertainty Mr. Quay confesses to with regard to his retirement from the chairmanship of the republican national committee is due to some doubt on the part of Mr. Quay about Mr. Harrison's making certain appointments. There is little doubt, it is said, about the President's anxiety to get rid of Quay. The success of the democrats in Pennsylvania last year is charged to the determination of right-minded people, regardless of party, to repudiate methods which were regarded as disreputable. If Mr. Quay should remain at the head of the national committee it is thought there might be danger of the national party suffering from the sus-picion which surrounds the political management of the Pennsylvania boss. A HITCH AS TO AN APPOINTMENT.

President Harrison and Mr. Quay have not been on very friendly terms for some time, but a few weeks ago they got a little closer together than they had been previously. The Pennsylvania Senator had a long conference with the President when he presented the resignation of Collector Martin of Philadelphia, and suggested several appointments he wanted made. The indications were then that they had come to an understanding and it was believed that in accordance with Mr. Harrison's wishes Mr. Ouay would retire from the chairmapship of

to a certificate of political character the little uncertainty about his retirement will be re-GEN. CLARKSON HIS SUCCESSOR. Mr. Quay, in his interview on the subject of his probable retirement, gives color to the report that Gen. Clarkson will succeed him. It is doubted whether this will be particularly gratifying to Mr. Harrison, and it may be nothing less than a reminder to the President that the powers which have been in control of the national committee are still there, and that whether Quay retires or not the chairman will sacrifices for Mr. Harrison. Mr. Clarkson is not regarded as a friend of Mr. Harrison's certainly not to the extent of wishing his renomination—and the selection of him to suc-ceed Quay when the latter resigns will be re-garded in many quarters as indicating a gen-eral weakness of the administration forces on Resigns From the Civil Service Board. Mr. John M. Comstock, the new chief of the customs division of the Treasury Department, has tendered his resignation as a member of the board of civil service examiners for the customs service at New York. In accepting the resignation Mr. Lyman, president of the United States civil service commission, says: United States civil service commission, says:

"The commission desires to express its high estimate of the value of your services as a member of the board of examiners, and during the larger part of the time as its chairman, from its organization in 1883 to the present time, and its thorough appreciation of the in-telligence, integrity, ability and loyal devotion to the cause of civil service reform which have characterized your connection with the board and with the larger work of the commission."

Judge Chandler, the acting Secretary of the are to be reserved, as proposed, from the public domain as a park. This park will be known as the Pike's Peak Park and embraces an area of land that is said to present many fine features of mountain scenery. Judge Chandler has directed that all the lands included within the area of the proposed park be withdrawn temporarily from settlement, sale or other disposition.

The Department has no Authority. The Colorado river overflows its banks in years. consequence of the formation of a new lake in the Colorado desert. The Southern Pacific railroad, whose property is jeopardized by the overflow, is about to take steps to stop the overflow. Judge Chandler, the acting secretary of the interior, has received a letter from Wood McKnight of River Lisle, Col., asking that the Department prevent the com-pany from carrying out this design on the ground that the people of southern California will be greatly benefited by the additional supply of water. Judge Chandler, in reply, informs him that in such a matter the Depart-ment has no authority to act and refers him to the courts for his remedy.

telle intimates that some of the seizures were made in American waters and suggests that a revenue cutter be sent to Eastport for the better protection of American fishing interests in that vicinity. As the question is an international one Secretary Foster has referred all the correspondence he has received on the subject to the State Department for such action as may be deemed necessary. He said, however, that a revenue steamer will be supplied if needed. A BOX OF ROYAL DECORATIONS.-Mr. E. H

THE CRONIN TRAGEDY RECALLED. It is Thought That the Man Who Drove the White Horse Has Disappeared.

CRICAGO, July 20 .- Interest in the Cronin tragedy has been revived by the story from New York that Peter Dean had mysteriously disappeared after receiving $2,000 to preserve silence in regard to incidents connected with the progress of the conspiracy and the subsequent assassination of the doctor. Inspector Marsh said every effort had been made to cap-ture Dean, who had been tracked as far as New York.

"Why did you want him?" "There was good reason to suspect that he was the man who drove the white horse away from Dinan's stable the night Dr. Cronin was killed. I do not believe that the man is in this The indications were then that they had come to an understanding and it was believed that in accordance with Mr. Harrison's wishes Mr. Quay would retire from the chairmanship of the national committee. Chief among the appointments Mr. Quay asked for was that of Judge Gilkeson, now second controller of the treasury, to succeed Judge Schofield as judge of the Court of Claims. It was expected by Mr. Quay that there would be no trouble about this appointment. It is understood now, however, that there is a hitch in the matter and that the President is reluctant to make the appointment.

Probably if Mr. Harrison will give such recognition to the Pennsylvania Senator as to amount to a certificate of political character the little uncertainty about his retirement will be rego about showing the receipt and boasting that the man who received the money would never call on them for another dollar

THE TURNERS IN BROOKLYN.

Continuation of Their Festival-A Monster Parade. rx, N. Y., July 20.—The Turn Vere of the Atlantic coast states continued its fes-tivities here today. The ceremonies began with ing from his library to the living and dining a monster parade through the streets, 10,000 men being in line, and included, besidesthe turners, some of the singing societies and Grand Army posts of New York and Brooklyn. At the reviewing stand on Bushwick avenue Gen. Max Weber made an address to the paraders. The procession broke up at Ridgewood Park and of the day. A large program had been pre-pared, consisting of about thirty events, for which a great number of entries had been has informed the Treasury Department that in March last a box containing decorations or dered by the Hawaiian government arrived at New York from Paris addressed to Mr. J. W. Bobertson, the Hawaiian king's vice chamberlain at Honolulu, and Mr. Allen asked, in order to avoid further delay in the transmission of the package, that it be delivered to him free of duty. In reply that in the absence of any provision of law exempting the package from payment of duty the department is unable to grant his request. He suggested, however, that the package might be entered for ware house and exportation to Honolulu.

TWO CENTS.

Special Disputch to The Evening Star.
COLUMBUS, ORIO, July 20.—"It reminds me of the campaigns we used to have in Ohio when this was an October state," said an old Columbus newspaper man to THE STAR correspondent last evening, referring to the enthusiasm and excitement already manifest in political circles in the great McKinley-Campbell contest that is just beginning. There is an ominous calm just now as before an approaching storm. Chairman Norton will call the new democratic central committee together for organization and the duct the campaign next week. It is under-stood that Gev. Campbell and his adviser and manager, Hon. James E. Neal, are desirons of manager, Hon. James E. Neal, are desirons of beginning the campaign at once. Gov. Campbell is almost as impetuous in disposition as except. Foraker, whose dashing campaigns are well remembered here, and will lead a vigorous fight. It will be his aim to put Major McKinley on the defensive at the start and keep him there if possible. As a matter of fact Gov. Campbell's weakest points—his troubles with his party—are not suitable for use on the stump against him. In all his controversy with the democratic officials in Hamilton county he had the warm support and hearty commendation of the republican press of the state. GOV. CAMPBELL AND THE NILVER PLANK. From the utterances of Gov. Campbell in an nterview last Saturday it is plain that he is not in sympathy with the free coinage plank of the platform, and that that question and all others raised in the platform will be laid aside in the campaign to give prominence to the tariff question. It is also evident that he regrets the insertion of the graded income tax plank. It is perhaps well that he hastens to express himselt so, as there are a great many wealthy dem-ocrats who will be careful to vote against that question and to cast their ballots this fall so that they cannot possibly be considered an in-dorsement of that plank.

THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN. Both McKinley and his campaign manager are out of the state on their summer vacations, but Secretary Matthews of the executive committee is here getting matters in shape for the opening of the state executive committee rooms. Chairman Hohn has, however, continued his state organization and the committee will be able to begin active, telling work on the first

The democrats are in need of an active and able secretary of their state executive commit-tee. John L. Geyer, who occupied that posi-tion last year, has been nominated for state senator and all his time will necessarily be taken up in his canvass.

THEY COME ABOUND TO CAMPBELL. The Enquirer, Evening Post of this city and the Eccaing Bor of Toledo, the democra ic papers that opposed Gov. Campbell's nomination, have all come gracefully to his support and announce that they will give their undivided efforts to the support of the ticket. Gen. John Beatty, the republican leader who bolted Foraker two years ago, says he regards

Campbell's chances as very good unless the farmers and people's party at their meeting at Springfield next month should put a state ticket in the field. With a people's ticket in the field the general is of the opinion that a the field the general is of the opinion that a great many who are dissatisfied with the tariff and will refuse to vote for McKinley will go to the people's party candidate instead of to Campbell, as they would if there were no third party in the field. With a third party in the held, he said, he regarded McKinley's election as assured. JUDGE THURMAN FAILING PAST. Judge Allen W. Thurman is failing fast Failure to take exercise is causing him to lose his physical strength. His studious nature has always militated against his health. Since he left public life he has practically shut himself in his library. He still retains his habit of in his library. He still retains his habit of daily routine acquired during his residence at Washington. He reads nearly all the night and does not rise until noon. His participation in the last presidential campaign doubtless added days to his life, because it compelled him to take physical exercise that nothing else would have succeded in making him take. Mrs. Thurman has been ill for several weeks and is yet confined to her bed. She urges him con-stantly to take some kind of physical exercise and succeeds in a degree. Since she has been

A REVIEW OF THE SITUATION. While it is too early to venture to predict the result of the Ohio election so exactly as to employe figures, a review of the situation is not out of place. In the first place Ohio is a re-publican state, with a majority in presidential years of about 25,000. Then Mr. Campbell will lose some votes in Hamilton county—prob-ably 5,000. The silver plank in the platform is likely to do him some damage, as also is the in-come tax plank. This will leave McKinley a majority to begin with of about 35,000. With a EASTPORT, Mr., July 20.—The excitement over the seizure of seven American fishing boats by the Canadian steamer Dream last week has not yet subsided. It is claimed by the Eastport fishermen that they were fishing in American waters, as defined by the charts.

> Since the democratic platform was adopted there has been a discussion of its features by the republican leaders with a view to assigning different parts of it to different campaigners to different parts of it to different campaigners to fiave control of their discussion. Senator Sherman, because of his experience in national Enances, has been assigned the free coinage plank. Secretary Foster will answer its arrangement of the "billion dollar Congress." Xx-Gov. Foraker will assail Campbell's state a dministration, while Maj. McKinley will himself direct the tariff fight.

CUTTING UP THE CLEVELAND PLATFORM.

It has been decided to open the speech making; of the republican state campaign about Au gust 20. Maj. McKinley desires to open it at Go. Campbell's home, Hamilton, but his old frie ads and neighbors at Niles, where he was born, have demanded that he make his first speec in there. He has not yet decided which place will be favored. lace will be favored.
